Judge Decides Not to Interfere Until the Non-Support Suit is Heard-Session at New London Today When Jury Will Be Drawn for February Session.

The superior court came in at New Londan Thursday and was occupied for the majority of the day with the arguments in the case of Julia W. Talbot, admx., vs. Emma F. Burlingham, both of Norwich.

The arguments were finished and Judge Case took the papers.

Town of Waterford, an appeal from the board of relief, was not reached but will be heard this morning.

The two cases of Goldstein vs. Wescheler and Gates vs. Gates, assigned for this week, will not be heard.

The Norwich case was followed by that of Mrs. Gretchen Harris of New-port, R. L. who seeks the custody of two children, aged respectively three years and fifteen months, against her husband. The children were in the custody of the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Harris of Westerly, and they took the little ones to East Haddam where they were found and were brought to court Thursday. The husband, Harris, is claimed to have described in the wife and to have taken the

FIVE LEADERS MAINTAIN POSITIONS.

When the West Side Pinochie club members counted up their scores on Thursday evening after their regular meeting at the Open House club rooms and found that 8. H. Reeves had climbed out of the tailend position, which he had occupied all during the present series, they united in congratulations to Mr. Reeves, who now holds ninth place instead of twelfth. The other conspicuous shift of the evening was in C. G. Cobb's standing, who gained two places and is now sixth, but the five leaders held their relative positions unchanged.

The following is the standing: Dr. N. B. Lewis 33,745, A. J. Bailey 32,-770, F. Tetreault 32,545, C. G. Cobb 22,070, H. Opitz 31,780, J. Jordan 31,-150, S. H. Reeves 30,859, Floyd Ledger 30,675, M. Larsen 39,659, H. H. Pettis 30,600.

Chicago Would Take the "Tech." Without consulting with Dr. Gun-saulus of the Armour Institute of Technology nor with the association of commerce, we are moved to say that President Maclaurin could do no better President Maclaurin could do no better than boidly bring the Massachusetts Institute of Technology to Chicago. Let it still bear its honored name, but let it get its roots down into the soil where the soil is rich. We could support a "Boston Tech" with our loose change, and we wouldn't, like some cities we know of, have to search all the hinterland round about to find the money.—Chicago Evening Post.

Wilbur Wright says that in time the law will check the recklessness of the too-daring aviator. In the meantime the law of gravitation is doing that work pretty well.—Denver Republican.

SAGE FOR DARKENING THE HAIR.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance, they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair with wonderfully beneficial effect. Nowadays we don't have to resort to the old-time, tiresome method of gathering the herbs and making the brew. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to King Manuel. Portugal's deposed boy ruler, is likely to receive an annuity of $50,000 from his former kingdom. The government has begun the final disposition of Manuel's effects, the proceeds of which will be turned over to him immediately.

The property left by Manuel will not be sufficient for an annuity of this size, but there is a disposition among the leaders of the new republic to make a yearly appropriation to him from the national treasury.

The report from London that the youthful ex-king is in a bad way financially is generally credited, as he was forced to flee without being given time to attend to his business affairs. Portuguese pride, a desire to appear magnanimous, and an undoubted affection for Manuel prompt the government to this action.—Meriden Journal.

During last year New York city consumed $1,000,000 pounds of poultry.

auth of Michael A. Lynch-Interest ing Meeting of Missionary Society.

Michael A. Lynch died Wednesday evening at his home on East Town street. He was the eldest son of John and Catherine (Sullivan) Lynch. He was born in Norwich Town Jan. 24, 1888. He was educated in the public achools where he showed good all ity and promise. Later he was employed in the Davenport Arms Co. He was a member of the Noah Webster club. His death is the first among the young men of Sacred Heart parish since it, was formed hine years ago Monday. Mr. Lynch was a communicant of Sacred Heart church and was well liked by his associates. His illness was borne with great courage and patience. He is survived by his father and mother, two sisters and three brothers, all of Norwich Town.

Missionary Meeting. The Lathrop Memorial Foreign Missionary society met Wednesday afternoon in the chapel of the First church. After the opening exercises and a short service of prayer there was a very general expression by those present regarding the best methods of giving. The lesson of the hour was upon the second chapter of the hock Western Women in Eastern Lands. The meeting was in charge of the president Miss Susan C. Hyde, Many interesting facts were brought out concerning the status of woman in non-Christian lands.

At Sacred Heart Church, First Friday devotions will be held at 7.30 o'clock this morning at Sacred Heart church. The Feast of St. Blaise will also be celebrated. The ceremony of blessing the throat is observed in most churches at the present time. There will be services at 4 o'clock in the afternoon for the children and also at 7.30 p. m.

A "Hunker" Governor.

South Carolina would appear to have got a fine old hunker for its executive. Governor Coleman Livingston Blease in his inaugural not only dusted the coats of the editors and clergymen who opposed his election, but ridiculed compulsory education and opposed devoting any portion of the taxes paid by whites to the education of negroes. This is statesmanship of the sort represented by Mrs. Partington's efforts to sweep back the Atlantic ocean with her broom. Where did the Paimetto State find such a product as this? It is not the right sort of advertising this governor is giving a proud old state. Perhaps Blease is taking pattern after Mr. Tillman, but "Uncile Ben" mixed his nonsense with more brains. Men who cannot recognize that white and black have got to live together, to learn to bear and forbear, and who do not see the need for everything that will help fit the negroes for citizenship, have no helpful place in the south of today. They are relics and not promoters of sound progress.—Springfield Republican.

Reasons Why Thousands Like Me Cannot Satisfy Their Employers. .

Their Employers.

"I believe my fate is not unlike that of thousands of other workers who daily lose their places for reasons they do not know, and probably would not believe. When their last pay envelope comes along, it is usually, "our services no longer required." If the truth were known, the reason for their unceremonlous removal would probably be that their usefulness was destroyed because of some mental worry, bodily aliment or general disposition. These things, as we all know, are the most trufful causes of failure in all walks of life. The battle of Waterloo was lost because of a headache. In this quick age our minds must be clear, rapid, active and free from outside influence or worry, or else we go down to failure with the throng of "footers" who go from one place of employment to another, giving no satisfaction to others or to themselves, constantly growing older and less useful, with no ambition, no will power, and no hope.

Every man requires from every other man the best that is in him. But no man can use or get the best that is fin himself until he is first free from all fretful indispositions and worries.

known that he had on several occasions risked his life to act as a spy for General Sherman.

A parallel case was that of the woman who died two weeks ago, a kinswoman of one of New York's leading citizens, who was a spy for the confederate government.

In speaking of her a friend said: "A number of young people were enjoying the fun of a fancy dress ball one evening, when a tall fortune teller made the rounds of the ballroom, addressing many people by name.

"When the masks were removed the fortune teller could not be found, and not until after the war did we know that it was Miss R, who, had she been recognized, would have been hanged. Nobody would have recognized in the old lady who died the other day the dashing spy of the 69's."—Boston Record.
